The worker on the right wears a blue hard hat and a yellow safety vest over a white jacket. The background is a blurred construction site with various structures and equipment.

Casualty Insurance

At Verus, we combine innovative solutions with unparalleled service, leveraging our teams' combined experience to tailor excess and surplus (E&S) casualty coverages to meet your business requirements.

Why Do You Need E&S Casualty Insurance?

Excess and surplus (E&S) casualty insurance is tailored to meet the needs of businesses facing high risks that fall outside the appetite of traditional insurance markets. Whether you're a small, medium or large construction firm, manufacturer or distributor, E&S insurance offers essential protection against catastrophic losses.

Tailored Casualty Coverage for Your Business

At Verus, we prioritize speed in our operations. We understand that a rapid response is crucial for our broker partner's success, and we continually seek innovative methods to reduce quote times.
